O. HENRY

The short story is America's own contribution to the forms of literature. O. Henry began it, Collier's and Liberty are furnishing it—four the Short Story Stories that appear, weekly in these two magazines are nothing but the O. Henry technique utilized to the nth degree. The modernistic movement in the short story just as the same spirit of frankness and specific story telling was a part of O. Henry.
William Sydney Porter, better known simply as O. Henry, lived from 1892 to 1910, not attaining his remarkable and phenomenal success until the last decade of his life. Will Porter led a varied existence, he did about everything and met all kinds of people. In Texas he began to write humorous "chances and much of this work was in the volume called "Rolling Stones." In the South O. Henry made friends with one of the greatest crooks and later he himself was forced to spend three years in prison. But perhaps these years in prison were a good thing for him because there he really learned to write and when he left the prison Porter went to New York to join the hack writers of the metropolis. He was immediately heard from and soon wrote for many different magazines. His first book "Cabbages and Kings" appeared in 1904.
O. Henry is the father of the short story; he made the short story what it now is in form and technique. Not many of the devices used now were not in O. Henry's clever mind. He leads the reader into the story from the very beginning and utilizes numerous tricky devices for holding interest. Not a single word is wasted and O. Henry knows exactly when to stop. Some of the stories that I think are the best of O. Henry are: "Tobin's Palm," "The Furnished Room," "A Municipal Election," "The Skylight Room," "The Gift of the Magi," "Between Rounds," "The Best of the Palm," "Once and I know you will read it again.
I mentioned Collier's and Liberty and with O. Henry are brought down to modern times, so to speak. Last spring there appeared in a certain number of Collier's a short story entitled "Tied Down by a Woman." It was a western story but was excellent and typically O. Henry. It proved the methods of the initiator of the short story and shows that all who hope to write and write well should make a study of O. Henry.

NORWAY—NOBLE'S CORNER

Fred Wheeler and Miss Evelyn Niles, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cox a week, returned home last Monday. They enjoyed several trips while they were here. Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Cox, Mr. Wheeler and Miss Niles motored to Solon to see Mrs. Cox's niece, Mrs. Alfred Jackson and family.
Leah Pessey is riding to and from school at the village with Percy Upton and children.
Mr. and Mrs. John Gregory and two daughters, Mrs. Edmund Buckley and daughter, Miss Grace, Mrs. Thomas Chiffelle and son, John of Auburn were Sunday visitors at Charlie Herick's. This was quite a surprise to Mrs. Herick as she and Mrs. Gregory hadn't seen each other for over forty years. Other visitors during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Alden Fisher of Freehold, N. J., also George Bennett of Norway, who visited old friends in this vicinity one day last week and was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herick.
Mrs. O. H. Merrill and Mrs. H. C. Merrill spent one day recently with Mrs. Percy Upton.
Clarence and Theodore Whitman picked McIntosh apples for Oscar Cox a couple of days last week.
Mrs. Blanche Hunt, who has been working at Lakeside Inn this summer has returned home.
Mrs. Addison Heath and children, Forrest and Marion and Mrs. Merle Merrill were callers at H. L. Holt's and I. P. Symond's one afternoon last week.

NORTH NORWAY

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heath and son, Cecil, attended Old Home Day services at the Center Church, Sunday.
Charles Verrill and son, George, have finished tarring down Mrs. Belle Hussey's stable. They bought a pair of it of Guy Ingalls, who took down the upper part of the stable.
Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Lord of South Paris took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Jenkins, Sunday. In the afternoon they took Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins to a ride through Waterville, Stoneham, Lovell and Fryeburg to "Jockey Cap" and back. They had a very good time. Leaving their car they climbed to the top of this historic boulder from which one gets the most magnificent view of the Saco Valley and the wonderful mountain ranges in the distance. No hard however coming could paint the beauty of the autumn foliage, it was grand beyond compare. Looking down on the road far below, the automobiles reminded one of large, swiftly creeping beetle bugs. The trip home was through Bridgton, South Waterville and Waterville Flat. A trip to think about when winter has us in its grip and we sit snugly by our own fireside.
Ralph Herick of Patch Mountain has been helping A. D. Kilgore pick apples.

PEANUT SHELLS

Some may ride in limousines and some in fine sedans. But let me have the common car which is the car which once was new and fast, but now is new no more. The good old car with peanut shells forever on the floor.
I do not hunger for a rig which costs so very much.
I want no polished body which the children must not touch.
I like to see the sticky prints emblazoned on the door.
And see the last ride's peanut shells still strewn upon the floor.
Oh, let me have the popcorn car, with candy papers, too.
And I'll not envy him at all whose bus is ever new.
Though I would be a tidy man, somehow when day is over.
It's good to put the car away with shells upon the floor.
And there's no richer sign of joy than shells upon the floor.

BATES

Formerly West Paris, on the G. T. Ry. 8 Miles N. W. from South Paris and Norway

A special meeting of the officials of the Universalist parish was held at the home of the pastor, Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes, last Friday evening. Any person having knowledge of a parish book containing the by-laws of the parish with names of old time signers will confer a favor by reporting the same to the clerk of the parish, Reynold E. Chase.

There was an all day meeting of the G. T. Ry. Society at the home of Rev. E. B. Forbes on Wednesday, Oct. 2. A business meeting of the Friendly Class was held at the same place the same day at 3:30.

Rev. E. B. Forbes, Gerry Emery, Gertrude Emery and Eloise Scribner attended the Central District Sunday school at Norway Methodist church last Saturday. The United Parish church roll call and supper was well attended last week Thursday evening in I. O. O. F. Hall, Sept. 26. After a beautiful supper which was highly enjoyed, a fine program was given as follows:
Prayer—Pastor, Rev. Geo. C. Smith.
Music—Several Old Time Hymns.
To which all who were present responded and several letters from non-resident members and interested persons were read.
Two Hymns—Choir.
Piano Solo—Miss Lillian Williams.
Several old hymns were sung.
In the midst of these were three stirring, inspiring addresses. The first by the pastor was enthusiastic and full of go-forwardness of all the church activities, morning and evening services and all organizations connected with it.
The Rev. E. B. Forbes of South Paris Baptist church gave a brief history of the Free Will Baptist church of West Paris, which was organized in 1829, an even century ago—of the church edifice which was built in 1865 and of several pastors, who had served it and the influence it had rendered to the community.
Rev. A. I. Oliver, District Supt. of the Methodist church, gave a stirring address on the forward outlook and said it should take a text it would be "I do not yet appear what we shall be," only he would change the word "shall" to "may" (with emphasis) and he closed with three stories of things such as may, for instance, when analyzed contains crystals, sapphires and diamonds or jewel lives like Alton York, a Kentucky Mountain boy, who won high honors as a marksman in the World War and when on his return asked for more schoolhouses in his home mountains instead of any sum of money or gift of honor from U. S. A.
The Rev. E. B. Forbes of the United Parish church will entertain the Young People's Society of the Mid-Oxford County in Centennial Hall this week, Friday evening in their semi-annual meeting.

Next Sunday, 6th inst., Promotion and Rally Day will be held at the United Parish Sunday school. A program of recitations and music will be given by the various classes and promotion certificates given, which will be preceded by the preaching service. The Rev. Smith will use "The Value of Childhood" for his subject.
Mr. and Mrs. William Carey and son, Alton, of Boston, friends of Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Smith attended church and visited them at the parsonage.
Mrs. Eben Pike is ill and Miss Gladys Ross is nurse. The twins have been taken care of at Mrs. Lyndell Farr's home. Miss Sadie Young of Nebraska and Mrs. Nelson Elder of South Paris recently visited their cousin, Mrs. Sara Carlin.

A good meeting was held last Sunday evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. Rev. John Singleton of the M. E. church at Norway, gave a fine temperance address from the standpoint of the "Booze" which was pathetic and stirring. The choir rendered two special pieces, "Some Glad Day" and "The White Ribbon".

PARIS HILL

Mrs. Ellen H. Jackson occurred at her home on Lincoln Street, Paris Hill, Saturday, Sept. 28. Mrs. Jackson was a great granddaughter of Gen. Levi Hubbard, one of the earlier settlers of the town. She was the daughter of Hiram and Elizabeth (Marble) Hubbard, and born in Paris, June 8, 1839. For some years she was in charge of the household of the Hubbard House in the early period of its existence as a hotel. She married Hiram Jackson, and her home from that time was at the Jackson house, where she died.

There were born to Mr. and Mrs. Jackson two children. A daughter died in infancy, and a son, Robert, died in young manhood. Hiram Jackson died many years ago.

Puzzled at "No" Vote

R. L. Cummings Explains the Situation

Mr. Wyman seems to be puzzled at the tremendous "no" vote. Possibly I may be able to explain the matter so that he will understand it a little better. However, he does not, I think I can make plain our misunderstanding of it.

To vote "yes" on the full list would mean the saddling of additional taxes on the public of approximately $50,000,000 within the next twenty years, for the principle and interest on indebtedness at this time would have to be paid within that time. More than all this by this same stroke you would deprive Maine of its greatest natural resource, by sending the profits from that power out of the state.

Has Mr. Wyman forgot that the argument upon which he built up the Central Maine Power Co. was, that it was Maine power built up by Maine capital for Maine? What would have been the result had you told them frankly that when organized and all ready, you would sell the company out to such men as the Utility? This company being a Public Utility, and granted a monopoly of the business, such as no private individual or partnership could ever have, came under an obligation to supply its product to the public, at a price that would pay only a reasonable dividend on actual proper investment.

Have these promises been kept? How about the promises and obligations of our great public utilities? Thirty years ago the railroad system of this country from New York to Caribou were in an exceptionally prosperous condition paying substantial dividends. They, like your corporation, are public utilities under the same obligations and having the same privileges that your organization has. What has been the result? The plundering of those corporations by the acts of the management, and their iron and steel monopolies, created a huge hole in our financial history that smelted to heaven. Billions of dollars of worthless securities were unloaded on those roads. They were milked by every other device that skillful lawyers could devise.

Then the public is called upon to pay, pay, pay. Increase after increase on the transportation of all of our goods both going and coming, until every producer and consumer and laborer are milked of that which is their honest due, to rebuild our transportation systems. During the war when our boys were shedding their blood and we at home were subscribing hard earned dollars and "producing food without profit" to win the war that democracy might not perish from the earth. This board of corporations, their satellites and speculators were profiteering without any obstruction whatever, in fact the United States Steel was granted a check which increased their profits $30,000,000 per ton on the steel rails that our railroads must have. All the roads had to do was to increase the rates to the public twice as much as that increase on the rails and the more profits to the roads.

Now "taxes" Mr. Wyman, only a short time ago, a campaign a little like yours that went without opposition, of a nature that would awaken the people, shirked millions of dollars in taxes from the railroads of Maine to the backs of the public. Now you wonder why we object to more taxes.

Such acts as these have created multi-millionaires and billionaires. A plenty of them. They are never satisfied. They want more. It would be interesting to know what your corporation and friends spent in our last political campaign in this state around our legislature and in that which is their honest due, to rebuild our transportation systems. Watch Tongue
For Signs of Illness

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90 per cent of all sicknesses start with stomach and bowel trouble.

A white or yellowish coating on your tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders. It tells you why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

And it's a sign you need Tanlac. This good old reliable medicine has helped thousands who were physical wrecks. See how the first bottle helps you.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of herbs, roots and roots—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

"If anyone doubts the quality of your new gasoline, just tell him to try it. If he doesn't find it the best gasoline he ever used, then I am no judge of good gas."

"I am not much of a hand at writing testimonial letters, but after the performance of my car last Sunday, I feel I owe you a few lines to tell you that Socony Special plus Ethyl is certainly wonderful."

"The new High Gas made my car perform in a way I thought was impossible, and I shall go long ways to use nothing but Socony Special plus Ethyl!"

"When a thing is good I believe in saying so. I have been in the gasoline game a good many years and the best gasoline I have ever sold or used is Socony Special plus Ethyl. Results are what count with me and the fact that I am selling more gasoline at 3c premium means something. More people are stopping for Socony every day."

SOME COFFEE RECIPES

By K. CAMILLE DEN DOOVEN

Formerly Chef of the Hotel de Littoral, Westende-Belgium, and Writer on Culinary Topics.

COFFEE is not only America's favorite drink, but it is a flavoring with a universal appeal and a wide range of uses. It can be used in flavor pastries, jellies, icings, ice creams, candies or, in short, wherever any flavoring is desired.

Coffee is easily handled and it has the advantage of being always present in the kitchen stock of supplies. Furthermore, it is inexpensive.

Hotel chefs know that the secret of good coffee lies in making it fresh so it is well to make a fresh supply for flavoring purposes.

Coffee that has been allowed to stand loses its flavor and aroma. Make it a little stronger than usual. Here are some recipes which I have found popular:

Coffee Bavarian Cream
1 cup strong black coffee 2 egg yolks
½ cup sugar 1 cup heavy cream
½ cup gelatine

Bring the coffee to the boiling point with half of the sugar; beat the eggs with the rest of the sugar and gelatine; add the hot coffee syrup slowly and mix well until the gelatine is dissolved. Put on ice to cool, stirring from time to time.

When cold mix in the cream whipped stiff, fill up jelly moulds or cups and place in refrigerator to set. When set, unmould by dipping the

Coffee Custard Pie
1 cup milk 3 eggs
1 cup black coffee 1 tsp. corn-starch
½ cup sugar

Line a deep pie plate with a pie crust; beat together the eggs, sugar and coffee; add the corn-starch and strain. Place the pie in an oven, and with a cup, fill in the custard. Bake at 350° F.

When the custard is nearly done, increase the heat a little so as to color the top of the pie.

French Coffee Ice Cream
2 cups cream 1 cup granulated sugar
2 cups black coffee 4 yolks of eggs

Boil the cream and coffee with half of the sugar. Beat the eggs with the remainder of the sugar, using a whip; when the milk boils add gradually to the eggs, stirring well. Strain and cool; when cold, freeze.

Coffee Caramels
2 cups sugar ¼ cup black coffee
2 cups corn syrup 1 cup cream

Put in a large sauce pan the sugar, corn syrup, cream and coffee; stirring continually to prevent burning. Cook until a firm ball is formed when tried in cold water; then add a half teaspoonful of butter and pour on a marble slab or buttered pan. Let stand over night; then cut into squares.

Dinner guests, Sunday at Pleasant View Farm, beside the regular guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Dickinson of Warren, R. I. were Dr. and Mrs. Harold F. Atwood of Buckfield and friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones of Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Willis A. Ames, Sr. Paris and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Verrill, Mechanic Falls.

Julian Andrews has been confined to the house several days the past week with the prevailing epidemic. Nearly every family have some member ill with this epidemic, which the doctors think is caused by the long continued drought, which has caused the water supply to be the lowest that was ever known by this generation, at least.

Andrew Rowe of Buckfield was a caller, Sunday morning, on his uncle, Leland Andrews and family.

A child's idea of justice is to have its grandmother make the decision when it is caught in mischief—Achtson Globe.

John Redding, assisted Leland Andrews the first of the week drilling and blasting in the new spring which he recently had dug, it being a good time to work on the job to get still deeper into the ground as the ledge that they struck a year ago and were unable to go deeper at the time on account of so much water, which hindered the progress of using dynamite. It is believed that the spring they found running in, in the first place, has taken a new course in the drought and is going through the cracks in the ledge or under the ledge, as there was such a supply of water in the late fall of last season.

Several from this section attended the dance at Buckfield, Friday evening.

Rachel Dyer and Ruth Boyd, who have been spending several weeks with Miss Dyer's parents, returned Sunday to their nursing duties in Boston.
